

NetDimensions Talent Slate

NetDimensions Talent Slate is a native mobile app that enables organizations to make full use of their mobile device investments by distributing and tracking relevant learning content, news, and reference materials directly at the point of need. NetDimensions Talent Slate is available on the iPad® and Android™ tablets, as well as iPhones® and Android™ smartphones as a powerful performance support tool.

At the Point of Need

NetDimensions Talent Slate is designed specifically for tablets to enable mobile learning, mobile assessments, and on-the-job performance support, as well as enrollment approvals (for supervisors or managers using the mobile application). NetDimensions Talent Slate relies on an intuitive, search-based navigation to provide on-demand access to learning materials for online or offline use.

Search-based Navigation

NetDimensions Talent Slate allows users to navigate content and information stored in the NetDimensions Talent Suite via an intuitive search-based interface. This interface performs a universal search into the Talent Suite platform and classifies search results into different categories: news, courses, reference materials, competencies, training records, and other information and knowledge assets. Users can then take action based on the context of each result category (for example, register and take a course, or download a job aid, or be alerted with a news announcement).

Branding & Customizations

NetDimensions Talent Slate can be personalized to the specific branding requirements and languages of your organization. The NetDimensions Interactive team can provide additional customization services to your requirements.

Online & Offline Use

Single-Sign-On with NetDimensions Talent Suite allows subsequent logins to NetDimensions Talent Slate to be done via secured PIN access.

Search results from the NetDimensions Talent Suite are always available on NetDimensions Talent Slate online and they can also be tagged for offline use. This means that:

- reference materials can be downloaded directly onto the tablet for use at the point of need, and that
- courses downloaded into the tablet can be run even when connectivity might not be readily available.

Smart synchronization enables SCORM results to be synchronized with the NetDimensions Talent Suite when internet connectivity becomes available.

Security

NetDimensions Talent Slate provides options for device encryption as well as mobile data encryption to address requirements from different models of corporate device or BYOD management.

Limit of offline usage period and time-out period which invokes authentication upon expiration can be set for enhanced security.

How to Download NetDimensions Talent Slate

NetDimensions Talent Slate is currently available for download from the AppStore and can also be made available for in-house corporate distribution via the iOS Enterprise Program. NetDimensions Talent Slate is also available on select Android™ devices via Google Play™.

NOTE: NetDimensions Talent Slate requires a connection to an active instance of NetDimensions Talent Suite version 10.1 or above.
